

From: Hayter, Earl J ERDC-RDE-EL-MS
To: Miller, Garyg
Subject: RE: SJRWP
Date: Tuesday, November 12, 2013 3:02:10 PM

Thanks Gary.

> -----Original Message-----

> From: Miller, Garyg [<mailto:Miller.Garyg@epa.gov>]

> Sent: Tuesday, November 12, 2013 3:55 PM

> To: Hayter, Earl J ERDC-RDE-EL-MS

> Subject: RE: SJRWP

>

> Earl,

>

> That's the question - the material may actually a part of the cap that > got exposed at low tide - it's hard to tell from the pics exactly how > far out from the exposed cap the island is. The description said it > was to the north, but it may be more to the northeast. The area is > generally shallow, but the island doesn't look like a mud flat. The > PRPs are looking at the pics now, and may send someone to the site to > take a closer look at it. Will let you know what I hear. I am > attaching a cap drawing that shows the parts underwater (blue) at the > normal tide level.

>

> Thanks,

>

> Gary Miller

> EPA Remedial Project Manager

> 214-665-8318

> miller.garyg@epa.gov

>

> -----Original Message-----

> From: Hayter, Earl J ERDC-RDE-EL-MS

> [<mailto:Earl.J.Hayter@erdcdren.mil>]

> Sent: Tuesday, November 12, 2013 2:05 PM

> To: Miller, Garyg

> Subject: RE: SJRWP

>

> Gary,

>

> From these photos, could you show on a map of the site the approximate > location of this deposited material?

>

> Thanks,

>

> Earl

>

> > -----Original Message-----

> > From: Miller, Garyg [<mailto:Miller.Garyg@epa.gov>]

> > Sent: Tuesday, November 12, 2013 3:00 PM

> > To: David Keith

> > Cc: Leos, Valmichael; Walters, Donn; Sanchez, Carlos; Hayter, Earl J

> > ERDC-CHL-MS

> > Subject: [EXTERNAL] FW: SJRWP

> >

> > David,

> >

9493916

> >
> >
> > Just received this from the San Jacinto community; I would appreciate > > any comments you may wish to make on this. There will be a community > > meeting (not EPA) tomorrow (Wed) night, and they are very interested > > in this. It may be within, or just beyond, the footprint of the TCRA > cap?
> >
> >
> >
> > Thanks,
> >
> >
> >
> > Gary Miller
> >
> > EPA Remedial Project Manager
> >
> > 214-665-8318
> >
> > miller.garyg@epa.gov
> >
> >
> > -----
> -
> > -
> > -----
> >
> > Gary,
> >
> >
> >
> > I have attached the photos I mentioned earlier today. Below is the > > caption the community member post with the photos.
> >
> > "There is a new island that grew just north of the pits. I mean it is > > JUST north of the pits. It wasn't there until we had the south wind > > blow all the high tides in. Not sure what caused it but it seems kind > > of suspicious it is so close to the pits and so soon after a tropical > > south wind. The tide will go out as soon as this northern blows in > > Tuesday and Wednesday I will get some more pictures of it when the > > water is blown out. "